

HH ARCHITECTURE

HH Architecture Hires Design Staff

Firm adds digital design expertise and expands internal capacity

October 20, 2009

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RALEIGH, N.C. – HH Architecture, a full-service design firm, announced that it has hired Geoffrey Barton as Architectural Intern. His current projects include design work for the Hill Street Park Neighborhood Center and Fayetteville Technical Community College's Academic Redevelopment.

Mr. Barton specializes in 3D schematic modeling and has a strong interest in sustainable design. Prior to joining HH Architecture, he earned his Master of Architecture from North Carolina State University. Mr. Barton is a 2005 graduate of Wake Forest University where he earned a Bachelor of Arts and graduated cum laude. On several occasions he has delivered guest lectures at Wake Forest University, and he has been a featured guest columnist for the Raleigh News and Observer's "Home of the Month" section.

"We are very excited to have Geoffrey join our team," says Kristen Hess, Principal at HH Architecture. "He is a driven, forward thinker and will not only be a great asset for the company, but his expertise will help us further our efforts in sustainable design."

HH Architecture has expanded its team to increase its design capabilities. The firm was recently presented with the Pinnacle Award for Steady Growth and Profitability from the Greater Raleigh Chamber of Commerce. Current projects include design of the master plan of the new 60-acre Western Campus at Fayetteville Technical Community College and the renovation of the High Point Central Gymnasium for Guilford County Schools.

About HH Architecture:

HH Architecture is a design firm focused on creating spaces that promote learning, wellness, and recreation. We are committed to improving the community through conscientious, responsible design. We are accredited professionals in Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) and have extensive experience with design that minimizes waste and uses resources wisely. Visit www.hh-arch.com.

###